LEGION MEMBERS STOP A MEETING

Attempt to Gather At Finnish Workers' Hall, Monessen, In Honor of Lenin, Is Frustrated By the Members of Order

POLICE WILL BE ON JOB

Red Cards Passed On the Streets Arouse Members of Legion, Who Wait On Mayor Carl Woodward, He Instructing Officers to Prevent It

Due to the activities and patriotic impulses which dominate every fibre of their being, the members of the American Legion Post, known as Thomas McKee Post No. 28, of Monessen, prevented a meeting advertised to be held in the Finnish Workers' hall, Monessen, located at Sixth and Motheral streets, Sunday evening, February 3, at 7:30 o'clock. The police of the city will be on the job to prevent any attempt of the Bolsheviks to hold the meeting, to be given as a "Memorial" in honor of the late Nicolai Lenin.

The act of precluding the meeting was a sequence to the dissemination of red cards on the streets of the city yesterday afternoon. The members of the Legion immediately got busy and placed the matter before Mayor Carl Woodward, who instructed the police of Monessen to stop any attempt to hold the "Memorial."

THE LACKAWANNA FIELD OUTPUT ABOVE NORMAL

Seranton, Feb. 2.—(United Press).—Figures just given out here show that the coal output in the Lackawanna field for 1923 was away above normal. During the 47 weeks which mines were operated the tonnage reached over 18,000,000. The mines were idle for five weeks due to the anthracite miners' suspension. At the present time the big companies here are all working full. Many of these companies are not operating their plants at all.

Jefferson Miner Pays Rather Dearly For Theft Of Chickens And Grain

Mike Sternick a miner employed at the Jefferson mine, near Avella, had a rather exciting chase Thursday while trying to get away from officers. M. M. Shaler and S. L. Kramer, T. A. Miller and William Brown had been losing chickens, grain and other articles from their farm for the past year or more. Miller had suspicions where the chickens were going and traced the thief. After leaving the chicken yard he later cut off the heads of the fowls and the stream of blood led to a house nearby. They denied the theft of the chickens despite the fact that Miller believed they were on cooking at that time. This week Mrs. George Chupa informed Miller and Brown that Sternick had brought chickens to her home and she refused to cook them.

Warrants were sworn out and the officers went after Sternick. Seeing one of the officers coming he left by the rear door and made it up over the hill only to run into Officer Shaler, who demanded that he stop. Sternick went all the faster but a shot from Shaler's revolver only increased his speed. A second shot turned him and he made for his boarding house, where the other officer was waiting.

Quartet Known Here Meet End In Auto Wreck

Word has been received in Charleroi of the deaths of Ralph Hoel, aged 40 years, his mother, Mrs. Flora Hoel, and his sister, Frances Grubb, aged 10 years, and Miss Lucile Hoel, aged 20 years, which occurred when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Western Ohio interurban car in Montezuma, Ohio, Thursday.

Mrs. Hoel, her son, Ralph, and granddaughter, Frances, were killed instantly. Miss Hoel was taken to a hospital, but efforts to save her life were unavailing. All the above-named are known in Charleroi, Ralph Hoel being the brother-in-law of Verne Balmer of Second street, and Mrs. George Schowd of Shady avenue. They have visited here.

Mr. Balmer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Schowd, left immediately on receipt of the word of the catastrophe to attend the funeral services of the ill-fated quartet.

LIFE OF WAR PRESIDENT IS, EBBING AWAY

Washington, Feb. 2.—(United Press).—Former President Wilson's "life of war" is ebbing away, a bulletin issued at 11:30 a. m. by three attending physicians said.

"Mr. Wilson is growing steadily weaker. He has been able to take very little nourishment. He has had some sleep and has no pain."

"He recognizes those about him, but is too exhausted to talk. Our efforts in the main are directed toward keeping him comfortable."

After the three attending doctors issued a bulletin at 11:30 that their patient was growing steadily weaker, Grayson added it looked as though Mr. Wilson would pull through the day. But that his condition is subject to a sudden change.

Another consultation will be held at 6 p. m., after which a bulletin will be issued. "Our efforts to keep Mr. Wilson comfortable are to relieve him of any pain and make his death as easy as possible," he added sadly.

A Committee Reports Balance In The Treasury

The Earnest Workers class of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting in the Sunday School room of the edifice last night. The president, being absent, the vice president, Mrs. England, officiated.

The regular routine of business was carried out. Mrs. Emma Dawson in her report of the flower committee, gave a balance of $13.25 in the treasury.

A solo was rendered by Mrs. C. Warren Kinder entitled "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" by Burns. Social converse was a feature, and the discourse enjoyed itself immensely. Luncheon of an appetizing and commendable nature, was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Stahlman, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Burns.

TO DEDICATE A $6,000,000 TEMPLE

Chicago, February 2.—(United Press).—Chicago temple of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the tallest church edifice in the world, will be dedicated some time before Easter.

The temple was erected at a cost of more than $6,000,000 and is acclaimed a masterpiece in Gothic architecture.

Situated in the "loop," Chicago's densest business district, the skyscraper temple towers 556 feet above the pavement. An immense golden cross at the apex is visible for miles around.

From the street the cross appears a few inches in dimensions. In reality it is 12 feet high and 6 feet wide. At night it will be illuminated by powerful electric lights.

The new church will be used for Americanization schools and patriotic gatherings, according to Dr. John Thompson, the pastor. It is hoped, he said, to make it the hub of protestantism in the middle West.

A statement issued preliminary to the drafting of dedicatory plans, said: "The true greatness of the Chicago temple will not be that of a successful business enterprise."

"Our great temple, resting on pillars going down over 100 feet to bed rock, with its open doors in this mighty civic center, must grip and contradict the false impression that somehow religion is losing out and is on the decline."

REV. RICHARDS HERE TOMORROW

Rev. Fred A. Richards, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church from 1910 until 1914, will preach in the pulpit formerly occupied, tomorrow morning and evening.

After leaving here, Rev. Richards was pastor of Union church, North Side, Pittsburgh, for five years or until Union and Calvary churches were united.

From Union church he went to Wilmerding and ministered to the Methodist people there until he was elected Field Secretary of the Board, Annual Conference at Kittanning last October.

Rev. Richards now lives at East McKeesport, but his work takes him to all parts of the Pittsburgh conference territory. His aim is to disseminate knowledge, and increase the Permanent Annuity Endowment Fund.

In the morning service Rev. Richards will speak of his work. In the evening he will preach along evangelistic lines.

New York, Feb. 2.—(United Press).—Following the amazing return of 237 pearls, estimated to be worth as high as $120,000, stolen from Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, Buffalo manufacturer's wife, at a New Year's eve party here over a year ago, police investigators believed today all of the $300,000 loot was about to be recovered.

John W. Mahan, Broadway jeweler who kept his promises to authorities when, shortly after release on bail he brought the gems to Schoellkopf at the Biltmore hotel, was expected to find the rest of the stolen jewelry.

Mahan admitted several weeks ago that he had purchased all the gems for $39,000 and is now under bond of $10,000 for criminally receiving stolen goods.

Mahan, who is at liberty to come and go as he pleases, said before leaving the Schoellkopf apartment after returning the pearls, that he would return the remainder of the loot in a house of representatives and state few days.

HUNTING IN AUTOMOBILES

After reading that more than a thousand deer were killed in New Jersey in the recent short open season of five days, and that, due to game law enforcement, there is now more wild life in Pennsylvania than there was half a century ago, both thickly populated States near the great centers of urban life, it is rather unexpected to find Dr. William T. Hornaday bitterly lamenting in Nature Magazine that the "harrassed and bedeviled remnants of killable game" are exposed to "the most previous 'grossly unfair advantages'" but now their peril is increased 50 per cent by the hunters' employment of automobiles in the chase. Dr. Hornaday says:

"In New England the hunters of grouse, quail and deer now use automobiles as univalently as guns are used. Go into the deer counties of New York, Vermont and New Hampshire and you will very quickly begin to meet automobiles with dead deer lashed across their radiators. Go to Texas and you will find pictures of automobiles loaded down with dead game that it will stagger you. The speedy and tireless automobile is added in order that the haunts of the game may be hunted over, not merely three or four times a season, but ten or twenty times."

No doubt the automobile is used to reach the edge of the hunting district and to bring in the game, but how can it be used in the scrub oak areas and other forest fastnesses in which the deer lurk? How can the automobile be employed in the actual hunting, except in the chase of big game in desert lands or other open and relatively smooth areas? Even the most ardent friend of game conservation may be tempted to ask whether Dr. Hornaday ever shouldered a gun and stalked a deer through the forest wilds in the whole course of his life.

IS OUR CLIMATE CHANGING

Elias B. Dunn, a Washington weather observer, is said to attribute the alleged change in our climate to the nineteen million of irrigated acres in the West, which have caused an unusual amount of moisture to fill the air and affect climatic conditions. An area of 19,000,000 acres undoubtedly suggests big things, but when we figure it into less than 200 square miles it is impressive, particularly when we consider that such an area as compared with the whole earth is something like a single house in a large city. When we have an unusually mild autumn and December we are apt to say that the climate is "changing" and old inhabitants are likely to talk much of the deep snows and hard winters of former times, but when the thermometer drops down to or near zero in January we are not so sure, and may even consent to agree with Professor J. Arthur Thompson when, in his "Outlines of Science," he says:

"The question is often asked whether our weather is changing for the worse, and to this the answer is in the negative. Very slight variations in temperatures and in raininess are known to recur in some places, and to have some agreement with the sun-spot cycle of about 11 years, and there have been some alterations from dry and warm periods to cool and wet ones, but the periods are very irregular and the changes slight."

ENGLAND IS FILLED WITH ANXIETY

London, February 2.—(United Press).—England today followed with keenest anxiety news from Washington on the illness of Woodrow Wilson. The former president's name was on every lip. Never was there more striking proof of the imprint he made on world affairs than the tributes paid him by the British people in what the newspapers called the "final hours of a great spirit."

"This is a moment when partisanship and party allegiance sink into insignificance," Premier MacDonald said, in speaking of the former president's illness during his address at the Pilgrims' Club.

BOOK AGENTS AND VISIONS

We sat in a little restaurant out in Mankato, Minn., and talked of many things. Two things I chiefly remember. One was the enthusiasm and determination that Josephine Sizer was putting into her new job of being president of the Minnesota W. C. T. U.

The other was the story of how she got her training in leading folks. That she does lead them is evidenced by the fact that some 20,000 people annually go to hear her lecture, especially in churches, camp meetings and Bible institutes.

Once upon a time, so the story ran, Mrs. Sizer was far from well. The doctor prescribed an absolute change of scene, new people, new interests. Now Josephine Sizer was the shy, devoted wife of a Methodist minister, she shrank not only from strangers, but from anything that would make her prominent even among her husband's congregation. And the family owned a country place in the north.

As she did her housework, dreams of far people and places born of the doctor's prescription slipped into her mind. And along came a stranger who made those vague dreams real. Under his arm was a volume of a famous series of lectures. Warned by his listener's attention, he grew eloquent. Finally, "Why, those books are as good as a trip!" exclaimed the woman.

An adroit question from the man, and her story was out. Her enthusiasm for the travel lectures persisted. The stranger saw its value to his company. He persuaded her, the shy little woman, to share her vision with other household women. She learned to talk, to sell ideas as well as books. She regained her health. She made money.

Then—"Why, if I have this gift," she said to herself, "I ought to put it to still better service." So she has done so.

YOUNG GIRLS PLAY "HOUSE"

Ardmore, Feb. 2.—(United Press).—Young girls attending the Lower Merion Union High School are now playing "house" to their hearts content in a modern equipped four room apartment.

The apartment was built and furnished especially to teach the girls the art of home-making. It consists of a living room, dining room, bedroom, bath, pantry, and kitchen. In this little apartment the students will be taught to make beds, dust, cook, serve dinner and do everything else an apartment dweller has to do except worry about paying the rent and other household bills.

Not only will the girls be taught, they will learn the qualities for a perfect hostess.

STAGE SCENERY OF ALUMINUM

Chemnitz Opera House Management Finds the Metal Better Than Wood and Canvas.

From Chemnitz, in Saxony, comes the news of the use of aluminum as a substitute for wood in a truly novel manner, says the Scientific American. Sheets of thin aluminum are being used for stage scenery in place of the usual canvas-covered wood frames.

This innovation was originally introduced on account of the exceedingly high price of wood at that time; but repeated trials have convinced the management of the Chemnitz opera house where the experiment was first introduced, that saving in expense is not the only advantage.

The scenery, in the first place, is lighter even than the old style frames; it is not subject to danger from fire, and scenery may be painted on both sides of it, an impossibility in the days of the old-style sets. Moreover, painted scenes can easily be erased and new ones substituted.

The acoustic properties of the new material seem to be as good as those of the old scenery.

The aluminum is delivered at the theater in roughly rolled sheets of the size and form of the original wooden sections of scenery. Its thickness is from 5 to 8 millimeters (0.2 to 0.3 inches).

mal. His respiration is 20, pulse 96. He had gradually lost ground. He has no pain. Our chief present concern is to insure a restful night."

This was signed by Grayson and by Drs. H. A. Fowler and Sterling Ruffin, who have been in constant attendance, since the former President's illness became acute yesterday.

Grayson remained all night at the Wilson home. The strain of seeing his dear friend die has put a mark upon Grayson which it will take a long time to eradicate.

Once during the night Mrs. Wilson's shadow was seen upon a window curtain as she moved through a room.

There was no other incident to mark the slow roll of the hours after the lights winked out in the Wilson home. A shivering group of newspaper men huddled in a flimsy wooden shed in a lot a short distance from the house trying to keep out the chill.

Clattering milk wagons, heralds of the dawn detoured around the block. The white pillars at the front door shone ghostly in the fog. Shivering watchers passed and re-passed, listening and watching. There was no sound nor sign from the silent house.

Mr. Wilson slept a good portion of the night, under the influence of a hypodermic injection. Rest is the only medicine that will do him much good, his doctors all agreed, and even that can only prolong his life a little while. They feel, and make his last hours more comfortable.

OFFICERS LIKE THEIR "TEA"

Following an investigation made by the chief of police of the city, S. S. Burnsworth, and the police, Billick, two officers of the police force of theory of Monongahela, were haled before Mayor Billick to answer charges. The officers were Patroleum Gillingham and Frazier. Both on night duty. It was said that the officers had been visiting a place in Monongahela where alcoholic beverages were dispensed.

The men had their hearing before the entire retinue of the police force. They were found by the mayor, guilty of misdemeanor. Officer Gillingham was suspended for 10 days, and Patroleum Frazier, a new officer, was dismissed from the force.

Mayor Billick made it plain that drinking by officers while on duty would not be countenanced, and that dismissal would be the result of violations of the rules in this respect.

William Ford of Chess street, Monongahela, was sworn in as a member of the police department, and has assumed his duties.

The action of the chief of police and mayor of the city is said to have come as a surprise to the members of the official roster of the police department of Monongahela, but by their action, the chief of police and the mayor have the congratulations and goodwill of a majority of the citizens. It is said.

Maids From the Antilles.

Maids servants from the Antilles were imported by a group of French women. However, they did not prove altogether satisfactory. A quarter of the negroes made fairly good servants, but were inclined to be restless. Another quarter had to be reprimanded. The remainder have fully lived up to the expectations of their employers. Hard-working Czechoslovak girls are now drifting into France as servants. They are hard working and know their value, which is far above that of the serving girls from Martinique.

Fishermen Tell of Sea Monster.

Certain Prince Rupert fishermen have come ashore in Vancouver with a weird tale of a strange sea monster. It has a fanlike tail, elevated like the feathers of a peacock, which forms a sail to propel the abnormal maritime apparition. It has the body form of a bear and long boathy fins to aid in its navigation. It has great tusks like those of a walrus. Indians say they saw it emerge from the water, walk up and down the beach for some distance, wade out in the water, spread out its tail and sail away.

M'ADOO TO BE ASKED TO TESTIFY OIL LEASE SCANDAL

Washington, Feb. 2.—(United Press).—William G. McAdoo will be invited to tell the Senate oil lease investigating committee exactly what services he rendered F. L. Doherty, California oil magnate, for which Doherty paid him $250,000.

He is understood to desire the opportunity to explain publicly that his services to Doherty, as a lawyer had nothing to do with the naval reserve oil leases which Doherty got from former Secretary of the Interior Fall.

When McAdoo tells his story, he will be subjected to severe cross-examination intended to disclose whether he knew anything of Doherty's dealings with Fall regarding the naval leases.

Doherty's story of wholesale hiring of prominent men, including McAdoo, Thomas W. Gregory, formerly United States attorney general, Lindley M. Garrison, former secretary of war, and the late Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, to rock congress and official Washington to his heels.

It was apologetic bombshell, exploding with tremendous force in the camp of McAdoo's supporters for the Democratic nomination for president; upsetting President Coolidge's selection of Gregory as special counsel to prosecute the leasing cases and opening a new and startling chapter in the amazing story of how men high in the government were involved with Doherty, lessee of naval oil reserves, and generous lender of money to Fall as other friends.

Another phase of the inquiry today came over the shoulders of Fall's scheduled appearance before the committee, under a preliminary subpoena issued after three doctors had been called to testify that Fall was not ill to go to the capital to testify. Fall's personal physicians have advised him he will endanger himself seriously if he goes beyond the limits of his summer. Fall's position was stated this morning by Lord Cook, his attorney.

"While Mr. Fall is reluctantly following the advice of personal physicians, I feel sure he will be able to do his duty as a citizen," Cook is quoted by the committee. The committee wants to examine Fall under oath regarding the money he loaned to the Doherty family. Zereby, agent of Mary E. Smirland, Teapot Dome lessee, and any others from whom Fall may have obtained funds.

President Coolidge continued today conferences with Senators on selection of men to replace Gregory, whom he dismissed as special counsel after Doherty revealed that he had been Gregory's oil lease agent. Coolidge had Senators Curtis and Lenroot at the White House last night, discussing selection of counsel. A resolution directing the president to take court action for cancellation of the naval reserve leases made a second trip to the White House today, having passed both Senate and House.

The House naval affairs committee will continue its inquiry into the navy's use of funds in providing storage for oil taken from naval reserves.

committee by at least 100 electors of the district or county. Candidates for members of county committees must have their petitions signed by at least ten electors of the county.

The last day on which petitions may be filed with the secretary of the commonwealth is March 13 and the last day for filing petitions with county commissioners is March 25. The last day when candidates may withdraw before the primary is March 14.

The primaries being almost a month earlier this year than in the past, due to an act passed by the 1923 legislature amending the primary law, makes the opening day for the circulation of nominating petitions fall on "Groundhog Day" and St. Valentine's Day, which the politicians say may or may not have its effect on the candidates, some of whom are "bound to see their shadow" while others "scurry" will receive valentines.

Thus far the only candidates who have announced in this county are those seeking nomination for the state legislature. Two are to be nominated in each district. The Republican candidates are:

First district—D. Glenn Moore, East Washington; C. B. McAllister, East Washington.

Second district—James T. Heffran, Speers; Claude E. Towner, Monongahela; Charles S. VanVoorhis, Char-

DINNER AND A BUSINESS MEETING

Last night in the dining room of the Elks club a number of former students of Washington Jefferson college, representing the towns of Donora, Monongahela, Monessen and Charleroi enjoyed an informal dinner and business meeting, for the purpose of hearing reports and further plans on the campaign for funds launched in the Monongahela Valley this week for the benefit of the college. $800,000 is the total to be reached to receive the two $200,000 conditional gifts.

$150,000 is still to be raised by the 28th of February, which means additional efforts and work on the part of the committee members. George Lancaster, personal representative of S. S. Baker, president of the college, was present and urged those present to greater endeavors. The Monongahela valley campaign will close on Thursday, February 14, and on Friday, February 15, a dinner will be held at the Elks club to hear final reports.

BODY FOUND IN WRECKED BUILDING

Kansas City, Feb. 2, Mo. (United Press)—One body was discovered at 9:30 a. m. today following an explosion which destroyed the Bailey Reynolds Chandelier company building in the heart of the business section here.

Twenty-five others were accounted for by officials believed to have been trapped by the flames. The entire business block was rocked by the explosion.

Windows in nearby buildings, especially those of the Federal Reserve Bank, were shattered. The bank is located next to the wrecked building.

Fire departments from all downtown stations reached the scene and made heroic efforts to prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings.

In Society's Realm

Mr. and Mrs. George Grandy of Dunlevy were the honor guests at a miscellaneous shower last evening given at their home by a number of friends. There were 45 guests present who spent a happy time in playing games. Mrs. William Brown contributed a number of vocal solos in her usual pleasing manner, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Robert Smith. Guests were present from Dunlevy, California and Vesta 5. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown served a dainty luncheon at the close of the evening. The bride and groom were presented with many beautiful and useful gifts.

WEDDED FOR 50 YEARS; OCCASION BEING OBSERVED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermott of 315 Crest avenue is the scene of much joyous festivity among the immediate members of the family today in celebration of the 50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. McDermott's wedding, which took place in Alexandria, Scotland, 10 years before they sailed for this country and settled in the Monongahela valley.

The interior of the home is tastefully decorated in the colors gold and white, making a pretty setting for an event which commemorates the births of half a century ago. This evening at 5 o'clock a wedding dinner will be served in the dining room, and Master Alvin McDermott, a student at Duquesne university, will play the wedding march, and the guests, with Mr. and Mrs. McDermott in the lead, will march to the table. The table is also decorated in accordance with the occasion, appointments being carried out in gold. A large wedding cake with the figures "50" embossed on the top, will be the centerpiece. At the conclusion of the meal, M. M. McDermott, acting as master of ceremonies, will present the aged couple with a gold ribbon bag containing gold pieces given by members of the family.

A highly interesting musical program has been planned for the evening, in which Mrs. Sylvia Derdeyn McDermott, wife of John L. McDermott, grand opera singer, returned from Paris this week, where she studied at Fontainebleau Castle, will feature in the program with a number of vocal solos. The grandchildren have also planned a musical entertainment, they all being musically inclined.

Mrs. G. May Hill, also a soloist, will participate in the entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. McDermott, aged 75 and 70, respectively, are wellknown and highly respected in the borough, having resided here for the past 18 years. For a number of years they conducted the McDermott Produce company, Mr. McDermott only retiring from active duties eight years ago, occasioned by the loss of his sight. They are the parents of the following children: M. M. McDermott, John L. McDermott and Mrs. G. May Hill, of Pittsburgh; Miss Cecilia and Miss Margaret at home; Harry A. McDermott of Monessen, and Thomas McDermott of Charleroi. They are the grandparents of four children. Out-of-town guests are present from Uniontown, Pittsburgh, and Monessen.

FRANCE VOICES ITS ESTEEM OF WOODROW WILSON

Paris, Feb. 2—(United Press)—"Soon the great voice of the idealist the Democratic pacifist, will be still heard forever."

Petit Journal thus summed up French opinion today as the nation waited anxiously for news of Woodrow Wilson—the man who brought the United States into the world war and saved France from the iron heel of a German conqueror.

Throongs stood in front of newspaper bulletin boards today for the latest cables from Washington brought over messages of the former president's condition.

"Wilson, lying on his sick bed, has witnessed the crash of his works," Petit Journal said, referring to the persistent refusal of the American people to enter the league of nations, "but France remembers him only with sympathy."

SOME THINGS WHICH ARE AMONG EXEMPT

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue of the Twenty-third district of Pennsylvania.

Not infrequently taxpayers include in their income tax returns items that are specifically exempt from taxation. Among these are the following:

Proceeds of life insurance policies paid upon the death of the insured.
The value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise or descent. The income from such property, however, is taxable.
Returns of premiums on life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts. Amounts received through accident of health insurance, or under workmen's compensation acts for personal injuries or sickness, plus the amount of damages received whether by suit or agreement, on account of such injuries or sickness.
Amounts received as compensation, family allotments and allowances under the provisions of the war risk insurance and the vocational rehabilitation acts.
Pensions from the United States for the services of the beneficiary or another in the military or naval service in time of war.

A bonus paid by a State to its residents who served in the military or naval services during the war with Germany.

Allowances, whether paid by the Government or a person to one who performed no duties, as for example, to a widow in recognition of the services rendered by her husband, are considered gratuities, or gifts, and not taxable. The rental value of a dwelling and appurtenances thereof furnished a minister of the gospel as part of his compensation is exempt from taxation.

Dividends or interest, not in excess of $300 received by individuals during the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive, from domestic building and loan associations, operated exclusively for the purpose of making loans to its members are exempt from tax.

Salaries paid by a State to its officers or employees.
Tax free income need not be included in gross income, nor need it be mentioned in an income tax return.

Taxpayers who prepare and file their income tax returns for the year 1923 early have a decided advantage over procrastinators. A little time and thought now in the preparation of a return is excellent insurance against errors, which result to the detriment of taxpayer and government. The filing period ends at midnight, March 15, 1924.

BUICK CHASSIS AT SPENCER'S SHOW ROOM TELLS THE WHOLE TRUTH

The outstanding merits of the new Buick for 1924 is especially apparent in the mechanical units of the sturdy chassis. Sound engineering principles correctly adopted by means of thorough study and tests that make these parts like the body and exterior design — truly the STANDARD OF COMPARISON.

The improvements are clearly shown on the chassis, such as: Motor and piston lubrication, detachable motor head, carburetor and intake manifold, hollow push rods, water pump packing, detachable arms on motor, sturdy reinforced frame, Buick four wheel brakes, conveniently arranged controls, new spark and gas control, roomy tonneau. The other improvements are as constructive as that just named and together they give the Buick owner a remarkable series of advantages that are not to be had elsewhere.

Each improvement has been matured and developed for many months in the Buick engineering laboratories and the great laboratories of the General Motors Corporation. All are offered to motorists with the same assurance and the same sincerity as the previous Buick models in the past.

Day of the Prophets Gone.

As religion and poetry are both "a power that makes," it seems well to think of them in association. The world of our troubled days stands in sore need of seers. It is therefore a tragedy that the prophetic office seems to have fallen into abeyance. But it will not always be so, for to think that there is to be no more "open vision" would be to betray a terrible lack of faith.—Enclosure.

Great Leader's Boldness.

Lord Bacon in his essay on "Boldness" repeats the story of Mahomet's promise to his followers that on a given day he would move by his word a nearby hill. When the day came, Mahomet ordered the hill to move, but it did not move. Then Mahomet calmly announced to his followers that since it would not come to him, Bacon uses the incident as an example of boldness.

Had One Qualification.

Little Joseph, aged five, was greatly puzzled because the goldfish in the aquarium, though very much alive, could make no noise. He spent much time trying to teach them to sing and talk. At last he gave up in despair and was heard to say, "Well, you can't sing and you can't talk, but you sure can swim any day."
